A/Prof Ng Beng Yeong works as a psychiatrist with the Department of Psychiatry, SGH. He is currently the founding President of the College of Psychiatrists, Academy of Medicine, Singapore. He is author of the book, 'Till the break of day -- a history of mental health services in Singapore 1841-1993.' In 2015 he published a collection of Chinese poems entitled 'Running up the slope of dreams' 《我还在梦的斜坡上奔跑》. The book was listed as one of the best-selling titles in a local bookstore for 2015. In 2016 he will be launching another book, a collection of short stories and prose, entitled 'Adrift in the sea of light', 《光海迷航》. He is also in the process of co-editing another history book with A/Prof Daniel Fung. This second book entitled 'Mental health of a nation, 1993-2015' will trace the further developments of psychiatry in Singapore after Woodridge Hospital shifted from its Yio Chu Kang premises to the new buildings at Hougang in 1993.
